Sexagesima Sunday

GOSPEL Luke 8:4-15 At that time, when a very great crowd was gathered together and hastened out of the cities, unto Him, He spoke by a similitude. "The sower went out to sow his seed. And as he sowed, some fell by the wayside. And it was trodden down: and the fowls of the air devoured it. And other seed fell upon a rock. And as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it had no moisture. And other seed fell among thorns. And the thorns growing up with it, choked it. And other seed fell upon good ground and being sprung up, yielded fruit a hundredfold." Saying these things, He cried out: "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear." And His disciples asked Him what this parable might be. To whom He said: "To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to the rest in parables, that 'seeing they may not see and hearing may not understand.' Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. And they by the wayside are they that hear: then the devil comes and takes the word out of their heart, lest believing they should be saved. Now they upon the rock are they who when they hear receive the word with joy: and these have no roots: for they believe for a while and in time of temptation they fall away. And that which fell among thorns are they who have heard and going their way, are choked with the cares and riches and pleasures of this life and yield no fruit. But that on the good ground are they who in a good and perfect heart, hearing the word, keep it and bring forth fruit in patience."

Saint Gabriel of Our Lady of Sorrows (March 1, 1838 – February 27, 1862)

Born in Assisi, Italy into a large family he was baptized Francis, in the same font in which Saint Francis of Assisi had been baptised.

Young Francis lost his mother when he was only four years old. He was educated by the Jesuits and, having been cured twice of serious illnesses, came to believe that God was calling him to the religious life. He wished to join the Jesuits but was turned down, probably because of his age, not yet 17.

Following the death of a sister to cholera, his resolve to enter religious life became even stronger and he was accepted by the Passionists. Upon entering the novitiate he was given the name Gabriel of Our Lady of Sorrows.

Ever popular and cheerful, Gabriel quickly was successful in his effort to be faithful in little things. His spirit of prayer, love for the poor, consideration of the feelings of others, exact observance of the Passionist Rule as well as his bodily penances—always subject to the will of his wise superiors—made a deep impression on everyone.

His superiors had great expectations of Gabriel as he prepared for the priesthood, but after only four years of religious life symptoms of tuberculosis appeared. Ever obedient, he patiently bore the painful effects of the disease and the restrictions it required, seeking no special notice.

He died peacefully on February 27, 1862, at age 24, having been an example to both young and old. Saint Gabriel of Our Lady of Sorrows was beatified by Pope Pius X on May 31, 1908 and canonized by Pope Benedict XV in 1920. He is the patron saint of students, youth & clerics.

In the teaching of the Catholic Church, an indulgence (Latin: indulgentia, from dulgeō*, 'persist') is "a way to reduce the amount of punishment one has to undergo for sins". It may reduce the "temporal punishment for sin" after death, in the state of purgatory.

The recipient of an indulgence must perform an action to receive it. This is most often the saying (once, or many times) of a specified prayer, but may also include the visiting of a particular place, or the performance of specific good works.

Indulgences were introduced to allow for the remission of the severe penances of the early Church and granted at the intercession of Christians awaiting martyrdom or at least imprisoned for the faith. The Church teaches that indulgences draw on the treasury of merit accumulated by Christ's sacrifice on the cross and the virtues and penances of the saints. They are granted for specific good works and prayers in proportion to the devotion with which those good works are performed or prayers recited.

An indulgence may be plenary (remits all temporal "punishment" required to cleanse the soul from attachment to anything but God) or partial (remits only part of the temporal "punishment", i.e. cleansing, due to sin).

To gain a plenary indulgence, upon performing the charitable work or praying the aspiration or prayer for which the indulgence is granted, one must fulfill the prescribed conditions of:

- 1) A complete and whole-hearted detachment from all sin of any kind, even venial sin
- 2) Making a valid sacramental confession
- 3) Receiving Holy Communion in the state of grace

The minimum condition for gaining a partial indulgence is to be contrite in heart; on this condition, a Catholic who performs the work or recites the prayer in question is granted, through the Church, remission of temporal punishment equal to that obtained by the person's own action.

Since those who have died in the state of grace (with all mortal sins forgiven) are members of the communion of saints, the living (members of the Church Militant) can assist those whose purification from their sins was not yet completed at the time of death through prayer but also by obtaining indulgences on their behalf. Since the Church has no jurisdiction over the dead, indulgences can be gained for them only per modum suffragii, i.e. by an act of intercession. This is sometimes termed impetration, which Aquinas explains "...is not founded on God's justice, but on His goodness". Indulgences are generally listed in the "Treasury of Prayers" in most Missals and Bibles.

FATHER SAFREED'S REFLECTIONS

RECOGNIZE AND RESIST DISHONESTY I

The Traditional movement is full of individuals who have taken on what is called the "Recognize & Resist" understanding of the Church. Included on this list are people like "Bishop" Athanasius Schneider, "Archbishop" Carlo Viganò, "Cardinal" Raymond Burke, et al. I put quotes around their titles, because as I have demonstrated in this Column previously, the consecration of each of these individuals was derived from Paul VI's new ordinal, (1968) which is, at best doubtful and most probably invalid. At any rate, a sacrament that is doubtful must be considered invalid in the practical order.

Laymen such as John-Henry Westen, editor of LifeSite News, and Michael Voris of Church Militant generally fall into this category of "Recognize & Resist," along with many others. Catholic Family News and The Society of St. Pius the X are in the category of recognize and resisters.

What is "Recognize & Resist?" It means that an individual or an organization recognize Bergoglio as the true pope and the Novus Ordo sect as valid but disobey most everything concerning him and it. Even without much training in philosophy and theology, most people should see this as absurd, don't you think?

The "bright light" in R&R circles these days still seems to be Taylor Marshall. According to Wikipedia Marshall:

is an American Catholic YouTube commentator, former Episcopal Church priest, and former academic, now known for his advocacy of traditionalist Catholicism. He is the author of multiple books, including the 2019 bestselling book Infiltration: The Plot to Destroy the Church from Within.

Taylor Marshall is married, with he and his wife having eight children. He holds several academic degrees, the most significant of which being a Doctor of Philosophy degree in philosophy from the University of Dallas in 2011. He has also held various positions in academia over the years.

Before I go any further, I must interject a few thoughts about people and their academic degrees. Two of us graduated with undergraduate degrees in philosophy way back in 1982 from Siena Heights College, now University. Believe me, I make no claims to being a great philosopher, however I had a solid understanding of what philosophy was and could articulate its principles with some intelligibility. My classmate, who actually had a higher GPA than myself, was totally clueless. Her professors did not teach her how to think, and as a result she graduated with a degree, with around a 3.50 average, but not having any idea what the discipline was all about. It was incredible. After college she got a job doing "clown ministry" at a hospital somewhere. I'll say no more about that! My point: beware of people with degrees and credentials, as they could very well be dangerous. To be continued.
