Passion Sunday

GOSPEL (John 8:46-59) At that time, Jesus said to the crowds of the Jews, "Which of you shall convince Me of sin? If I say the truth to you, why do you not believe Me: He that is of God hears the words of God. Therefore, you hear them not, because you are not of God."
The Jews therefore answered and said to Him: "Are we not right in saying that You are a Samaritan and hast a devil?" Jesus answered: "I have not a devil: but I honor my Father. And you have dishonored Me. But I seek not My own glory: there is One that seeks and judges. Amen, amen, I say to you: If any man keeps My word, he shall not see death forever."
The Jews therefore said: "Now we know that Thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets: and Thou says: If any man keep My word, he shall not taste death forever. Art Thou greater than our father Abraham who is dead? And the prophets are dead. Whom dost Thou make Thyself?"
Jesus answered: "If I glorify Myself, My glory is nothing. It is My Father that glorifies Me, of whom you say that He is your God. And you have not known Him: but I know Him. And if I shall say that I know Him not, I shall be like to you, a liar. But I do know Him and do keep His word. Abraham your father rejoiced that he might see My day: he saw it and was glad." The Jews therefore said to Him: "Thou art not yet fifty years old. And hast Thou seen Abraham?" Jesus said to them: "Amen, amen, I say to you, before Abraham was made, I AM." They took up stones therefore to cast at Him. But Jesus hid Himself and went out of the temple.

Pope Saint Leo I (c. 400 – 10 November 461), also known as Saint Leo the Great, was Pope from 29 September 440 to his death in 461. It has been said that Leo's papacy "...was undoubtedly one of the most important in the Church's history."

He was a Roman aristocrat, a native of Tuscany and was the first pope to have been called "the Great". He is perhaps best known for having met Attila the Hun in 452 and persuading him to turn back from his invasion of Italy.

He is also a Doctor of the Church, most remembered theologically for issuing the Tome of Leo, a document which was a major foundation to the debates of the Ecumenical Council of Chalcedon. The Council of Chalcedon, the fourth ecumenical council, dealt primarily with Christology, and made clear the orthodox definition of Christ's being as the hypostatic union of two natures, divine and human, united in one person,"with neither confusion nor division".

By 431, as a deacon, Leo was sufficiently well known outside of Rome. Near the end of the reign of Pope Sixtus III, Leo was dispatched at the request of Emperor Valentinian III to settle a dispute in Gaul. During his absence in Gaul, Pope Sixtus III died (11 August 440), and on 29 September Leo was unanimously elected by the people to succeed him.

Leo's writings are mostly about theological questions concerning the person of Jesus Christ and his role as mediator and savior. He takes up this topic in many of his sermons, and over the years, he further develops his own original concepts. A central idea around which Leo deepens and explains his theology is Christ's presence in the Church, more specifically in the teaching and preaching of the faith (Scripture, Tradition and their interpretation), in the liturgy (sacraments and celebrations), in the life of the individual believer and of the organized Church, especially in a council.

From a pastoral perspective he galvanized charitable works in a Rome beset by famines, an influx of refugees, and poverty. He further associated the practice of fasting with charity and almsgiving particularly on the occasion of the Quattro tempora, (the quarterly Ember days).

Leo died on 10 November 461 and, as he wished to be buried as close as possible to the tomb of St Peter, his body was placed in a tomb in the portico of Saint Peter's Basilica. In 688 his remains were moved inside the basilica itself. In 1754 Pope Benedict XIV proclaimed Leo I, a Doctor of the Church. His feast was once celebrated in Rome on 28 June, the anniversary of the placing of his relics in Saint Peter's Basilica, but in the 12th century, the Gallican Rite feast of 11 April was admitted to the general Roman Calendar.

FATHER SAFREED'S REFLECTIONS

THE HELL YOU SAY!

On March 11, 2023 the false Pope Bergoglio was asked the following:

“What is your own interpretation of hell and paradise, and what happens to people who go to hell, and what to those who go to paradise?”

‘Pope’ Francis responds:

Hell is a state, there are people who live in hell continuously.
...hell is a state, it is a state of the heart, of the soul, of a posture towards life, towards values, towards the family, towards everything.
There are people who live in hell because they seek it, there are others who do not, who are suffering. And who goes to hell, to that hell, to that state? They who are already living it from here.

In this interview, as well as other times he has publicly spoke about Hell, the following can be stated as to how he sees it:

[1] hell is not a place; [2] one can only speak of hell as a state in this world
[3] one should not fear hell; [4] some people experience hell in this life
[5] no one goes to a supernatural or preternatural hell.

Bergoglio’s hell, then is totally NATURALISTIC, it is based entirely on life in this world. This of course, is heresy, as we shall see later.

So according to ‘Pope’ Frances, Hell does not await the wicked after death. Or so he says...

The interesting thing about Francis is that on many occasions he has disclosed his belief in the Devil. For example, from TV 2000 on December 2017 he says:

The Devil is an actual person rather than a concept...
Satan is smart and shouldn't be argued with...
This is evil, it is not a diffuse concept, it is a person...
Satan is smart, he tells us that when we kick him out he will go, but then, after a while, he comes back, with seven companions worse than him.

This is very unlike the typical liberal Churchman and theologian, who sees the figure of Satan as a myth. So, what is going on here? Bergoglio believes in the Devil, but not in Hell? Is this not a kind of contradiction? To be continued.
