For those old enough to remember it is easy to forget, and for those young enough it is easy not to know how uncertain the future was in 1939. In those dark days as the new year approached, George VI broadcast by radio the lines of an obscure poem:

And I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year: "Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown."

And he replied: "Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the Hand of God. That shall be to you better than light and safer than a known way."

On the first Sunday of Advent, the faithful stand at the gate, for this is the beginning of a new year in the cycle of how the Church worships her Creator. The circumstances of the world today seem off-balance in many ways.

The weeks of Advent invoke the four facts most important to consider for spiritual maturity: Death, Judgment, Heaven and Hell.

On the last Sunday of October, the feast declared Christ is King of the universe. Sovereign as He is over all things including our souls, it is nonetheless possible to shut our minds to Him by deceitfulness and to turn our actions away from Him by selfishness. Christ limits his access to our souls by an old royal protocol, which William Pitt expressed in terms of earthly monarchs: "The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all the forces of the Crown." Our Lord does not invade, but He does invite: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come into him and eat with him, and he with Me" (Revelation 3:20).

In Advent He awaits our invitation: "Come, Lord" (1 Corinthians 16:22).

In death there is a last chance to open the door: "For we know that if the tent that is our earthly home is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (2 Corinthians 5:1).

We know how things turned out after 1939, but we do not know how they will unfold after 2022.

We do know that Christ stands at the gate. As another line in that poem says:

"So, I went forth, and finding the Hand of God, trod gladly into the night.
And He led me towards the hills and the breaking of day in the lone East."

*If you are new to the chapel, Welcome.
New parishioners please consult Father Safreed before the reception of sacraments.*

DRESS POLICY ~ When attending any functions at the chapel, especially Holy Mass, you are in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament. Please dress accordingly, with due modesty and respect. Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts.
Ladies, use a head covering, available in the rear of the church either for loan or for purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
