Seventeenth Sunday After Pentecost

GOSPEL Matt. 22, 34-46 At that time, the Pharisees, came to Jesus and one of them, a doctor of the Law, putting Him to the test, asked Him, “Master, which is the greatest commandment in the Law?” Jesus said to him, “You shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart, and with your whole soul, and with your whole mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. And the second is like it, You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend the whole Law and the Prophets.” Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus questioned them saying, “What do you think of the Christ? Whose son is He?” They said to Him, “David’s”. He said to them, “How then does David in the Spirit call Him Lord”, saying, “The Lord said to my Lord: Sit at My right hand, till I make Your enemies Your footstool?” If David, therefore, calls Him Lord, how is He, his son?” And no one could answer Him a word; neither did anyone dare from that day forth to ask Him any more questions.

St. Isaac Jogues, S.J. (10 January 1607 – 18 October 1646) Isaac Jogues and his companions were the first martyrs of the North American continent officially recognized by the Church. As a young Jesuit, Isaac Jogues, a man of learning and culture, taught literature in France. He gave up that career to work among the Huron Indians in the New World, and in 1636, he and his companions, under the leadership of Jean de Brébeuf, arrived in Quebec. The Hurons were constantly attacked by the Iroquois, and in a few years, Father Jogues was captured by the Iroquois and imprisoned for 13 months. An unexpected chance for escape came to Isaac Jogues through the Dutch, and he returned to France, bearing the marks of his sufferings. Welcomed home as a hero, Father Jogues might have sat back, thanked God for his safe return, and died peacefully in his homeland. But his zeal led him back once more to the fulfillment of his dreams. In a few months he sailed for his missions among the Hurons.

In 1646, he and Jean de Lalonde, who had offered his services to the missionaries, set out for Iroquois country in the belief that a recently signed peace treaty would be observed. They were captured by a Mohawk war party, and on October 18, Father Jogues was tomahawked and beheaded. Jean de Lalonde was killed the next day at Ossernenon, a village near Albany, New York.

The first of the Jesuit missionaries to be martyred was René Goupil who with Lalonde, had offered his services as an oblate. He was tortured along with Isaac Jogues in 1642 and was tomahawked for having made the sign of the cross on the brow of some children. Father Anthony Daniel, working among Hurons who were gradually becoming Christian, was killed by Iroquois on July 4, 1648. His body was thrown into his chapel, which was set on fire.

Jean de Brébeuf was a French Jesuit who came to Canada at the age of 32 and labored there for 24 years. He went back to France when the English captured Quebec in 1629 and expelled the Jesuits but returned to his missions four years later. Although medicine men blamed the Jesuits for a smallpox epidemic among the Hurons, Jean remained with them.

He composed catechisms and a dictionary in Huron and saw 7,000 converted before his death in 1649. Having been captured by the Iroquois at Sainte Marie, near Georgian Bay, Canada, Father Brébeuf died after four hours of extreme torture.

Gabriel Lalemant had taken a fourth vow—to sacrifice his life for the Native Americans. He was horribly tortured to death along with Father Brébeuf.

Father Charles Garnier was shot to death in 1649 as he baptized children and catechumens during an Iroquois attack.

Father Noel Chabanel also was killed in 1649, before he could answer his recall to France. He had found it exceedingly hard to adapt to mission life. He could not learn the language, and the food and life of the Indians revolted him, plus he suffered spiritual dryness during his whole stay in Canada. Yet he made a vow to remain in his mission until death.

These eight Jesuit martyrs of North America were canonized in 1930. Their feast day is celebrated on 26 September. The National Shrine of the North American Martyrs, also dedicated as the Shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs, is a Roman Catholic shrine in Auriesville, N.Y.

Reflection ~ Faith and heroism planted belief in Christ's cross deep in our land. The Church in North America sprang from the blood of martyrs, as has been true in so many places. The ministry and sacrifices of these saints, challenges each of us, causing us to ask just how deep is our faith and how strong our desire to serve even in the face of death.

“Purgatory exists, and the souls detained therein are helped by the suffrages of the faithful, but especially by the acceptable sacrifice of the altar.”
Council of Trent

FATHER SAFREED'S REFLECTIONS

COUNTERFEIT CHURCH IX

Continuing with "Vatican II Exposed as Counterfeit Catholicism" by Frs. Francisco and Dominic Radecki, CMRI

Why is the Catholic Church so opposed to Communism? "The fate of the Catholic Church in the USSR and countries occupied by the Russians from 1917 to 1959 shows the following:

The numbers killed: 2.5 million Catholic believers,
55 bishops, 12,800 priests and monks.

Imprisoned or deported: 199 bishops, 32,000 priests and 10 million believers.

15,700 priests were forced to abandon their priesthood and accept other jobs.

A large number of seminaries and religious communities were dissolved;
16,000 monasteries were nationalized, 31,779 churches were closed.
400 newspapers were prohibited and all Catholic organizations were dissolved.

One of the best ways to help Communists is to do nothing. John XXIII, Paul VI and many bishops at Vatican II simply ignored the issue, even though Communism threatened to envelop the world and a nuclear war almost erupted between the U.S. and the Soviet Union in 1962. John XIII even made a secret pact with Moscow not to condemn Communism at Vatican II. The former Soviet Union and Communist China engulfed many nations in Europe and Asia and set their sights on Africa and the Americas. They removed opposition by mass executions, concentration camps and indoctrination. Maryknoll Missionary, Fr. Tennien said Communists controlled the Chinese people by telling them to spy on others. True religious freedom is non-existent in most Communist regimes. In 1954, 65 million Catholics suffered religious persecution behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains in Europe and Western Asia.

THE BERLIN WALL

On August 13, 1961, construction began on the infamous Berlin Wall. It separated East Berlin from West Berlin, spanned over 100 miles and remained in place until November 9, 1989. Although 171 people died trying to leave Communist East Berlin, 5000 successfully escaped, including a person who built a submarine to travel through sewers and two families that escaped by means of a hot air balloon. On June 12, 1987, President Ronald Reagan challenged General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev to "tear down this wall" and declared "...we in the West must resist Soviet Expansion. So we must maintain defenses of unassailable strength. Yet we seek peace; so we must reduce arms on both sides." He also wanted to prevent Mutually Assured Destruction (MAD).

DRESS POLICY ~ If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes of Vatican II in the Church, few parishes have had any kind of dress code: we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Most Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church and when attending any functions at the Chapel: Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts.

Ladies, use a head covering, available in the rear of the church either for loan or for purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
