Third Sunday After Epiphany

GOSPEL Matt 8:1-13 At that time, when Jesus had come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed Him: And behold a leper came and adored Him, saying: "Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean." And Jesus stretching forth His hand, touched him, saying: "I will, be thou made clean." And forthwith his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus said to him: "See thou tell no man: but go, show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them." And when He had entered into Capharnaum, there came to Him a centurion, beseeching Him, and saying, "Lord, my servant lies at home sick of the palsy, and is grievously tormented." And Jesus said to him: "I will come and heal him." And the centurion, making answer, said: "Lord, I am not worthy that thou should enter under my roof; but only say the word, and my servant shall be healed. For I also am a man subject to authority, having under me soldiers; and I say to this, Go, and he goes, and to another Come, and he comes, and to my servant, do this, and he does it." And Jesus hearing this, marveled; and said to them that followed Him. "Amen I say to you, I have not found so great faith in Israel. And I say to you that many shall come from the east and the west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven: But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into the exterior darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth." And Jesus said to the centurion: "Go, and as thou hast believed, so be it done to thee." And the servant was healed at the same hour.

St. John Bosco (Giovanni Melchiorre Bosco; 16 August 1815 – 31 January 1888), popularly known as Don Bosco was an Italian Roman Catholic priest, educator and writer of the 19th century. He was born in the hillside hamlet of Becchi, Italy, the youngest of three boys. John Bosco was born into a time of great shortage and famine following the devastation wrought by the Napoleonic wars and a drought in 1817.

When he was two years old his father died, leaving the support of three boys to his mother. She played a strong role in Bosco's formation and personality and was an early supporter of her son's ideals.

In 1825, when he was 9, Bosco had the first of a series of dreams which would play an influential role in his outlook and work. This first dream left a profound impression on him for the rest of his life. Bosco saw a multitude of very poor boys who play and blaspheme, and a man, who appeared, nobly attired. The man said to him: "You will have to win these friends of yours not with blows, but with gentleness and kindness. So, begin right now to show them that sin is ugly and virtue beautiful."

On a cold morning in February 1827, at age 12, John left his home and went to look for work as a farm-servant. Having to face life by himself at such a young age may have developed his later sympathies to help abandoned boys. Although Bosco could pursue some studies by himself, he was not able to attend school for two more years. In 1830 he met Joseph Cafasso, a young priest who identified some natural talent and supported his first schooling. In 1835 Bosco entered the seminary. After six years of study, he was ordained a priest on the eve of Trinity Sunday in Turin in 1841.

While working in Turin, where the population suffered many of the effects of industrialization and urbanization, he dedicated his life to the betterment and education of street children, juvenile delinquents, and other disadvantaged youth. He developed teaching methods based on love rather than punishment, a method that became known as the Salesian Preventive System.

A follower of the spirituality and philosophy of Saint Francis de Sales, Bosco was an ardent Marian devotee of the Blessed Virgin Mary under the title Mary Help of Christians. He later dedicated his works to De Sales when he founded the Salesians of Don Bosco. Together with Maria Domenica Mazzarello, he founded the Institute of the Daughters of Mary Help of Christians, a religious congregation of nuns dedicated to the care and education of poor girls. He taught Dominic Savio, of whom he wrote a biography that helped the young boy be canonized.

In 1875, he began to publish the Salesian Bulletin. The Bulletin has remained in continuous publication and is currently published in 50 different editions and 30 languages. Bosco died on 31 January 1888. His funeral was attended by thousands. Following his beatification in 1929, he was canonized as a saint by Pope Pius XI in 1934.

DRESS POLICY ~ If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes of Vatican II in the Church, few parishes have had any kind of dress code: we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Most Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church and when attending any functions at the Chapel:

Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts. Ladies, use a head covering, available in the back of the church for loan or purchase.

FATHER SAFREED'S REFLECTIONS

MODERNISM VIII

We continue with the series from Vatican II Exposed as Counterfeit Catholicism by Frs. Francisco and Dominic Radecki, CMRI.

UNDERSTANDING THE PROCESS, continued

Wolves hid under the Roman collar, bishop's mitre and cardinal's robe in order to more easily deceive the flock. The disguises worked to perfection. Even though people usually abhor evil, they are often deceived when evil appears to be harmless or is disguised as something good. Although traditionally-minded prelates were a majority when Vatican II began, things changed rapidly. Many younger prelates who attended the Council were infected with Modernism and brought Modernist advisors (perti) with them.

Others who entered as Catholics, left as Modernists or Modernist sympathizers. Faith is easily lost once it is compromised. Some bishops who were able administrators, lacked a deep spiritual life and a thorough knowledge of Catholic doctrine. By the time the Second Session of the Council began, many bishops embraced the radical changes of Vatican II and the spirit of the world. The silent majority remained passive as Modernists dismantled the Catholic Faith. Fr. Martin Stepanich, OFM remarked that many bishops at Vatican II didn't lose the Faith—they had little faith to begin with. Cardinals and bishops who courageously opposed the changes engaged in a losing battle. Nothing they did made any difference since they were vastly outnumbered.

REMAIN UNDETECTED

During World War II, German SS troops caused great havoc during the Battle of the Bulge by disguising themselves as American soldiers. Their traitorous plan was brilliant. Why would anyone question Military Police in U.S. GI uniforms? A few termites can't take down a home, yet a wooden structure is dangerously compromised once there is an infestation in key areas.

CALM BEFORE THE STORM

Though the Church seemed serene in some places during the early twentieth century, there were secret and overt attacks against it in others. Communists and Freemasons assailed the Church in Portugal (1910), Russia (1917) and Spain (1936). French government leaders, who had handpicked bishops since 1682, exiled clergy and members of Religious Orders during the early 1900's. Modernists, Freemasons and Communists, like killer submarines, stealthily attacked the Church, using Freemasonic Lodges for cover. Eventually, they placed one of their own on the Throne of St. Peter. John XXIII convoked Vatican II to destroy the Catholic Church.

All religious items and written materials must be approved by Father Gregory, BEFORE they are displayed in the religious items' bookcases.

*If you are new to the chapel, Welcome.
New parishioners please consult Father Gregory before the reception of sacraments.*

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
