Trinity Sunday

GOSPEL Matt. 28:18-20 At that time, Jesus coming, spoke to them, saying: "All power is given to Me in heaven and in earth. Going therefore, teach ye all nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

TRINITY SUNDAY: The fundamental dogma, on which everything in Christianity is based, is that of the Blessed Trinity in whose name all Christians are baptized.

The feast of the Blessed Trinity needs to be understood and celebrated as a prolongation of the mysteries of Christ and as the solemn expression of our faith in this triune life of the Divine Persons, to which we have been given access by Baptism and by the Redemption won for us by Christ.

Only in heaven shall we properly understand what it means, in union with Christ, to share as sons in the very life of God.

The feast of the Blessed Trinity was introduced in the ninth century and was only inserted in the general calendar of the Church in the fourteenth century by Pope John XXII. But the veneration of the Trinity is to be found throughout the liturgy. Often the Church causes us to praise and adore the thrice-holy God who has so shown His mercy towards us and has given us to share in His life.

The dogma of faith which forms the object of the feast is this: There is one God and in this one God there are three Divine Persons; the Father is God, the Son is God, the Holy Ghost is God. Yet there are not three Gods, but one, eternal, incomprehensible God! The Father is not more God than the Son, neither is the Son more God than the Holy Ghost. The Father is the first Divine Person; the Son is the second Divine Person, begotten from the nature of the Father from eternity; the Holy Ghost is the third Divine Person, proceeding from the Father and the Son. No mortal can fully fathom this sublime truth.

Why is this feast celebrated at this particular time? All three Persons contributed to and shared in the work of redemption. The Father sent His Son to earth, for "God so loved the world as to give His only-begotten Son." The Father called us to the faith. The Son, our Savior Jesus Christ, became man and died for us. He redeemed us and made us children of God. He ever remains the liturgist par excellence to whom we are united in all-sacred functions. After Christ's ascension the Holy Ghost, however, became our Teacher, our Leader, our Guide, and our Consoler. On solemn occasions a thanksgiving Te Deum rises spontaneously from Christian hearts.

The feast of the Most Holy Trinity may well be regarded as the Church's Te Deum of gratitude over all the blessings of the Christmas and Easter seasons; for this mystery is a synthesis of Christmas, Epiphany, Easter, Ascension and Pentecost.

This feast, which falls on the first Sunday after Pentecost, should make us mindful that every Sunday is devoted to the honor of the Most Holy Trinity, that every Sunday is sanctified and consecrated to the triune God. Sunday after Sunday we should recall in a spirit of gratitude the gifts which the Blessed Trinity is bestowing upon us. The Father created and predestined us; on the first day of the week He began the work of creation. The Son redeemed us; Sunday is the "Day of the Lord," the day of His resurrection. The Holy Ghost sanctified us, made us His temple; on Sunday the Holy Ghost descended upon the infant Church. Sunday, therefore, is the day of the Most Holy Trinity.

O SANCTISSIMA, a prayer to the Holy Trinity

*O most Holy Trinity,
I adore you who dwell by your grace in my soul.
Sanctify me more and more,
make me love you more and more,
abide with me evermore and be my true joy. Amen.*

FATHER SAFREED'S REFLECTIONS

JOHN XXIII, part 2

Continuing with “Vatican II Exposed as Counterfeit Catholicism” by Frs. Francisco and Dominic Radecki, CMRI

When Pastor Schutz, prior of the Protestant Taize community expressed his desire to change things at the Vatican, [John XXIII] replied: “Patience, patience! I can’t do everything at once.”

John XXIII’s method of gradual change was both deceptive and highly effective. His aim was not minor alteration, but rather, complete and radical change.

ANGELO RONCALLI—THE FUTURE JOHN XXIII

Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli was born on November 25, 1881 in Sotto il Monte, Italy, located ten miles from Bergamo. His deceptive ways and love of food began as a child.

When he was little, as the family gathered to say the rosary, he would sneak into his mother’s room to snatch figs that were hidden there. When questioned, he denied the transgression but indigestion — and its consequences — betrayed him.

Later in life, he reminisced about his peasant origin. “In Italy,” he was fond of saying, “there are three ways of losing one’s money—women, gambling and farming. My father chose the most boring of the three.” This story was frequently repeated among the members of the Vatican Diplomatic Corps. If on the surface it seems funny, it also expresses a deep spiritual void and lack of respect for his father and the humble life of a farmer.

Roncalli’s early spiritual training included traditional Catholicism laced with Modernism. This Bishop of Bergamo, Camillo Guindani, had liberal and Modernist leanings that he acquired from his friend and former teacher, Jeremiah Bonomelli whose pamphlet had been put on the Index of Forbidden Books. Bonomelli’s close friend, Antonio Fogazzaro “supported [Modernist] reform in the Church and toured Italy proposing to reconcile Darwin’s theory of evolution with Christianity.” Two of his writings were placed on the Index.

THE SEMINARIAN

In 1892, when Roncalli was eleven years old, he entered a minor seminary at Bergamo. He joined the major seminary in 1895, received first tonsure on June 28 and the four minor orders in 1898. In 1899, Angelo Roncalli served an obligatory term in the army and was discharged from military service in September of 1901. Bishop Guindani then sent Roncalli to Rome to finish his studies in philosophy and theology at Piazza Saint’ Appollinare. In November, he was forced to serve in the Lombardy Brigade in Bergamo, where he reached the rank of sergeant.

DRESS POLICY ~ If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes of Vatican II in the Church, few parishes have had any kind of dress code: we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Most Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church and when attending any functions at the Chapel:

Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts. Ladies, use a head covering, available in the back of the church for loan or purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
