Fourth Sunday After Pentecost

GOSPEL Luke 5:1-11 At that time, when the multitudes pressed upon Jesus to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Genesareth, and saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them and were washing their nets. And going into one of the ships that was Simon's, He desired him to draw back a little from the land. And sitting, He taught the multitudes out of the ship. Now when He had ceased to speak, He said to Simon: "Launch out into the deep and let down your nets for a draught."

And Simon answering said to Him: "Master, we have labored all the night and have taken nothing: but at Thy word I will let down the net." And when they had done this, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net broke.

And they beckoned to their partners that were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came and filled both the ships, so that they were almost sinking.

Which when Simon Peter saw, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying: "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord." For he was wholly astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken. And so were also James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were Simon's partners. And Jesus said to Simon: "Fear not: from henceforth thou shalt catch men."

And having brought their ships to land, leaving all things, they followed Him.

Saint Aloysius Gonzaga was born Luigi Gonzaga, the eldest son of the Marquis of Castiglione, an Italian nobleman, on March 9, 1568. From the earliest age, the young saint was given to prayer. Legend has it that his first spoken words were the Holy Names of Mary and Jesus.

St. Aloysius was raised in the castle Castiglione delle Stivieri in Lombardy, with many servants, and plenty of wealth and comfort. It was natural for his father to have had great hopes that he would have a military career and succeed him in the nobility with title and property.

However, by age 9, he had privately decided on a religious life and made a vow of perpetual virginity. He practiced many devotions and mortifications and safeguarded himself at all times from possible temptation. St. Aloysius preferred to spend his free time in prayer, kneeling on a cold stone floor or in the church in front of the Blessed Sacrament.

In 1577, his father took him and his brother to Florence to study and improve their Latin and Italian. As it would happen, the young man would develop an affinity for the study of the saints even more than his regular studies. At this time St. Aloysius read of the Jesuit missionaries in India, and he resolved to join the Society of Jesus. He began this direction in life by instructing the poor boys of Castiglione in catechism.

At the age of 12, he encountered the great ecclesiastic Saint Charles Borromeo and he received his first Holy Communion from him.

St. Aloysius insisted that he be allowed to assist with the sick and he served in a hospital during the plague of 1587 in Milan. In time, he fell victim to the dreaded disease himself, and died at the age of 23, after receiving the last rites from Saint Robert Bellarmine, who later wrote the Life of Saint Aloysius.

It was revealed to him that he would pass on the Octave of Corpus Christi, and though he appeared much better in the days preceding the Feast, St. Aloysius Gonzaga did, in fact, die on the Octave of Corpus Christi, June 21st, 1591.

Who would serve as a better example or be a good patron saint for young people if not St Aloysius? Who would make a good advocate and intercessor for young people and their prayers in Heaven? This young saint is a model for all Catholic youth. He was filled with a love of God, remorse for his sins, and a desire for purity of mind, body, and heart.

St Aloysius, a patron to all young people, was beatified in 1621 and declared a saint in 1725. His relics are buried under the altar of Saint Ignatius Church in Rome. His feast day is celebrated on June 21st.

FATHER SAFREED'S REFLECTIONS

JOHN XXIII part 5

Continuing with "Vatican II Exposed as Counterfeit Catholicism" by Frs. Francisco and Dominic Radecki, CMRI

BISHOP RADINI TEDESCHI

In the early 1900's, the Roman Curia nervously observed the liberal social views of a priest in Rome, named Fr. Radini Tedeschi, who was vice-president of the "Opera die Congressi" (Work of the Congresses). In 1904 Pope Pius X dissolved the organization because it promoted Socialism. "He saw the organization as 'modernism' in its social form."

In 1905, Radini Tedeschi was appointed Bishop of Bergamo where he continued his work away from Rome's scrutiny. "This bishop was notoriously liberal, assuming the leadership of all avant-garde movements, whether they were Catholic or Labor oriented, to the great dismay of the bishop's parishioners." In 1909, Radini Tedeschi earned the title of "red bishop" when he supported the workers strike at Ranica.

From April 1905, Roncalli spent nearly ten years serving as secretary for Bishop Radini Tedeschi. Unfortunately, Fr. Roncalli embraced his bishop's Modernist and Socialist views, remaining loyal to them for the rest of his life. His close work with Bishop Radini Tedeschi solidified his commitment to work toward a new vision of the Church, open and receptive to secular and anti-Christian trends of the world, especially Ecumenism and Socialism.

His work as secretary for Bishop Tedeschi brought Fr. Roncalli into contact with several Modernists, including the Archbishop of Milan, Cardinal Ferrari. Roncalli consulted Ferrari on all important decisions and met him almost monthly until Ferrari's death in 1921. Even though Pope Pius X sent four "apostolic visitations" to Milan because Cardinal Ferrari was the leader of progressive forces in Italy, Fr. Roncalli remained a close friend with Ferrari...

More than 40 years later, John XXIII used Tedeschi's strategy of "aggiornamento" to change the doctrines and liturgy of the Church. Tedeschi, a close friend of Cardinal Mercier, was willing to retain some of the "glorious traditions" of the Church, while changing its doctrines and worship from within. By this means he was accepted in both traditional and Modernist circles. In later years, Roncalli applied Tedeschi's tactics when he rationalized his changes to the Church due to "the new conditions of the times" while still claiming to preserve its sacred traditions. This clever deception of fence-walking would masterfully and repeatedly be used by John XXIII in order to disguise his intentions and thereby deceive Catholics.

DRESS POLICY ~ If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes of Vatican II in the Church, few parishes have had any kind of dress code: we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Most Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church and when attending any functions at the Chapel:

Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts. Ladies, use a head covering, available in the back of the church for loan or purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
