Twentieth Sunday After Pentecost

GOSPEL John 4:46-53 At that time, there was a certain ruler, whose son was sick at Capharnaum. When he heard that Jesus had come from Judea into Galilee, he sent to Him and prayed Him to come down and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

Jesus therefore said to him: "Unless you see signs and wonders, you believe not." The ruler said to him: "Lord, come down before my son dies." Jesus saith to him: "Go thy way. Thy son lives."

The man believed the word which Jesus said to him and went his way. And as he was going down, his servants met him: and they brought word, saying, that his son lived. He asked therefore of them the hour wherein he grew better. And they said to him: "Yesterday at the seventh hour, the fever left him." The father therefore knew that it was at the same hour that Jesus said to him: "Thy son lives." And himself believed, and his whole house.

The Feast of the Most Holy Rosary, is a feast day of the Roman Catholic Church, celebrated on October 7th, the anniversary of the decisive victory of the combined fleet of the Holy League of 1571 over the Ottoman navy at the Battle of Lepanto.

In 1571, Pope St. Pius V organized a coalition of forces from Spain and smaller Christian kingdoms, republics, and military orders, to rescue Christian outposts in Cyprus, particularly the Venetian outpost at Famagusta which, however, surrendered after a long siege on August 1st before the Christian forces set sail. On October 7, 1571, the Holy League, a coalition of southern European Catholic maritime states, sailed from Messina, Sicily, and met a powerful Ottoman fleet in the Battle of Lepanto. Knowing that the Christian forces were at a distinct materiel disadvantage, the holy pontiff, Pope Pius V, called for all of Europe to pray the Rosary for victory, and led a rosary procession in Rome.

Pius V instituted "Our Lady of Victory" as an annual feast to commemorate the victory at Lepanto, which he attributed to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

In 1573, Pope Gregory XIII changed the title of the "Feast of Our Lady of Victory" to "Feast of the Holy Rosary", to be celebrated on the first Sunday of October. Dominican friar Juan Lopez in his 1584 book on the rosary states that the feast of the rosary was offered "in memory and in perpetual gratitude of the miraculous victory that the Lord gave to his Christian people that day against the Turkish armada".

In 1671 the observance of this festival was extended by Clement X to the whole of Spain, and somewhat later Clement XI, after the victory over the Turks gained by Prince Eugene in the Battle of Petrovaradin on August 5, 1716 (the feast of Our Lady of the Snows), commanded the feast of the Most Holy Rosary be celebrated by the universal Church.

Leo XIII raised the feast to the rank of a double of the second class and added to the Litany of Loreto the invocation "Queen of the Most Holy Rosary". On this feast, in every church in which the Rosary confraternity has been duly erected, a plenary indulgence, toties quoties, is granted upon certain conditions to all who visit therein the Rosary chapel or statue of Our Lady. This has been called the "Portiuncula" of the Rosary.

Pius X in 1913 changed the date to October 7th, as part of his effort to restore celebration of the liturgy of the Sundays.

OCTOBER, MONTH OF THE HOLY ANGELS AND THE ROSARY

The lovely month of October comes round and directs our attention and meditations to the rosary and the holy angels. The Blessed Virgin Mary is the Queen of Angels.

The mysteries of the rosary are almost constantly suggestive of the angels. The announcement that she should be the mother of Jesus was made to Mary by an angel. No doubt the visitation to her cousin Elizabeth was attended by angels, though they were invisible.

The birth of the Savior was announced by a glorious choir of angels, who sang, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to men of good will." The agony of our Lord in the garden was consoled by a ministering angel. In the glorious mysteries, especially, the ministry of the angels is conspicuous. At the resurrection angels came and rolled away the stone from the sepulcher and announced to the disciples that their Lord had risen from the dead. At the ascension a company of angels received Him as He passed out of sight. The assumption and coronation of the Blessed Virgin were, of course, celebrated by an innumerable company of angels.

Indeed, if we meditate at all on these interesting mysteries as we recite the various decades it would seem the most natural thing in the world to include offices of these glorious messengers of God who are sent forth to minister to those who shall be heirs of salvation.

October 2nd is the Feast Day of The Holy Guardian Angels.

Be or not to be Pope? This is a snippet from Noteworthy News. Full article available on the website Msgr. Carlo Maria Viganò in response to the article by Boni Castellane "The Pope speaks of sin to those who do not know what it is"

In his article published in La Verità on September 1, Boni Castellane, speaking of Jorge Mario Bergoglio, referred to his "duplicité as a practice" and the "pre-eminence of pastoral care over theology," starting from a recent address by Bergoglio in which he defined as a "grave sin" the failure to welcome the hordes of Islamic clandestine who are invading and "hybridizing" European countries on behalf of the globalist elite.

It is difficult to hear Bergoglio speak of sin, at least according to the theological meaning of the term, which presupposes the violation of the Law of God and the loss of the state of Grace which alone allows the soul eternal salvation. And Boni Castellane rightly emphasizes how Bergoglio's infamous "Who am I to judge?" sounds in contradiction with these ideologically oriented positions.

In reality, the operation, which began with the Second Vatican Council and is now taken to its extreme but consistent consequences, slavishly follows other experiments in social engineering that have already been successfully implemented in the civil sphere. The deep church uses the Church as a "container" that, after having been emptied of its essence in recent decades, today Bergoglio fills with the demands of globalist ideology – revolutionary and therefore antichristic – and to which he also forcibly adapts the language proper to Catholic theology, distorting it.

The authority of the Roman Pontiff is vicarious of Christ's authority and derives legitimacy from its conformity with this ontological reality. Conversely, Bergoglio's authority openly proclaims itself to be independent and self-referential: he thinks he can use and abuse his own power and the authority (and authoritativeness) of the Catholic Church simply because he knows that the clergy and the Christian people have been accustomed, in the last sixty years, to accept any change imposed on them by the Authority of the Church. In the name of a "democratization" of the Conciliar Church – today renamed "synodality" – the bond between the authority of Christ and that of His Vicar on earth has been broken, thus creating the premises for the tyrannical exercise of power. Bergoglio wants to be recognized as a legitimate Pope because only from that position can he demand obedience from Catholics and bring to completion the transformation of Roman Catholicism into the Masonic Religion of Humanity.

The use of the term grave sin in a sociopolitical context constitutes one of the main applications of Orwellian Newspeak applied to religion. It was the Council that was the first to use deliberately ambiguous and equivocal language, replacing the clarity and equivocality of the Aristotelian-Thomistic exposition and acting as a support for the errors and doctrinal deviations which Bergoglio zealously advocates. For this reason, it seems absurd to me that there are conservative Catholics who do not understand how "recognizing" Bergoglio as Pope, while criticizing him and accusing him of heresy, is primarily in Bergoglio's interest. If he is the Pope, he cannot be judged by anyone; but if he has used malice to seize power in order to destroy the Church, then he is not the Pope, and as such he may be "recognized" as never having been elected.

DRESS POLICY ~ If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes of Vatican II in the Church, few parishes have had any kind of dress code: we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Most Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church and when attending any functions at the Chapel:

Everyone should refrain from jeans, shorts or T-shirts. Ladies, use a head covering, available in the back of the church for loan or purchase.

Remember, also, Lord, Your servants and handmaids below who are gone hence before us, marked with the sign of faith, and sleep the sleep of peace. To them, Lord and to all that rest in Christ, grant, we implore You a place of happiness, light and peace through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
